

J&K Bank Fair Practice Code

1. Introduction:

Indian Banks' Association had introduced a formal system of self-discipline in the Banking Industry in the year 1973 through adoption of "Ground Rules and Code of Ethics (GRACE)". GRACE put in place a uniform approach to the dealings with public. In the light of deregulation in the banking industry GRACE was revised and replaced by "IBA Code For Banking Practice (IBA CODE)" which was made effective from 1 st September 1999. IBA Code aimed at promoting a healthy competition among banks. Principles of the code applied to the overall relationship amongst member banks and also between banks and customers. During the year 2000, an IBA Group reviewed the Citizens' Charter introduced by Public Sector Banks and brought out a 'Model Citizens' Charter'. The IBA Code for Banking Practices and Citizens' Charter are customer friendly measures which bring certain degree of accountability and responsibility amongst officials/ staff of banks. Based on these two documents a need was felt for bringing out a comprehensive fair practices code to be followed at the branch level in its dealings with individual customers.

2. Need:

The code was required for having operating standards for the benefit of customers besides providing valuable guidelines to customers for their day to day banking operations. The code sets standard of fair banking practice for branches for dealing with customers and has therefore much relevance in today's changed banking paradigm. The code shall go a long way for improving customer service at the branches besides nourishing a sound relationship with customers.

3. Scope:

The scope of this code extends to:

- Current, savings and all other deposit products offered by the bank
- Salary accounts, Pension accounts, Social Security Benefit accounts or any other account operated as agents of RBI/Government
- Collection and remittance services offered by the bank
- Loans and overdrafts
- Foreign exchange services
- Card Products -- 'JK Bank Global Access Debit Card' and 'JK Bank Credit Card'
- Third party products offered through bank's network like products of Western Union, Club 9, etc.
- I.T enabled delivery channels

4. Objective:

The Code sets standards of fair banking practices for the branches to follow when they are dealing with individual customers and shall provide them valuable guidance for day-to-day operations.

5. About this Code:

This is a Voluntary Code aimed at promoting healthy competition and encourage market forces to achieve higher operating standards for the benefit of customers. In the Code, 'you' denotes the customer and 'we' the branch of J&K Bank the customer deals with. The standards of the Code are covered by the four key commitments found in section "KEY COMMITMENTS" below.

Unless it says otherwise, all parts of this Code apply to all the products and services listed above, or likely to be launched in future, whether they are provided by branches across the counter, over the phone, by post, through interactive electronic devices, on the internet or by any other method.
